

Salford Children's Book Awards!

Today was amazing. We went to a trip to the Salford children's Book Awards we met five different authors, Fleur Hitchcock, Helen Dennis, Jane Karr, Peter Bunzl and Stewart Foster. First, we waited for the taxi and headed to the Lowry, where the book award was at. James Campbell did the whole ceremony. I and nine other people went to the Book Awards.

We were able to get signatures on the books we bought from the authors. My favourite book was by Fleur Hitchcock. Murder in Midwinter, it was the best out of all of them.

The ceremony was about how the five authors made the book and why.

Before today, we were given the task of reading the books shortlisted and to review the books after we read them. Then we had a vote after we read the books. THE WINNER was Fleur Hitchcock.
